Grand Old Order Will Hold Biennial Convention Here.

Will Open With Solemn High Mass Monday at St. Patrick's.

Reception, Ball and Banquet For Entertainment of Visitors.

SESSIONS WILL COVER TWO DAYS

The Ancient Order of Hibernians, the oldest fraternal Catholic organization in existence and with the largest membership of one nationality and faith the world has ever known, will convene in this city in biennial convention Monday morning, the business sessions covering two days. For several months past the four local divisions and the Ladies' Auxiliary have been preparing for this event, with the result that a programme has been prepared that will surpass any in the history of the order in this State. From assurances already received the convention will bring about 500 delegates and visitors to Louisville.

Final arrangements for the convention were completed at a meeting of the County Board held Thursday night at Bertrand Hall, when President Thomas Dolan appointed a number of members to act as a reception committee and meet the incoming State officers, delegates and visitors at the depot tomorrow morning. After attending mass and registering at the Galt House, they will be escorted to Nelligan's Hall, Nineteenth and Portland avenue, where open house will be kept for all members of the order, with a social session where they may become acquainted.

Monday morning the Hibernians and their friends will assemble at St. Patrick's church, where the solemn high mass that precedes the business sessions of the convention will be celebrated by the pastor, the Rev. J. P. Cronin, V. G., who is County Chaplain of the order. It was expected to have present the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue, the State Chaplain, but his manifold duties render this impossible. Father Cronin is a staunch friend of the A. O. H., and will welcome them to the city and preach the sermon.

Following the mass the convention will be called to order in the convention hall of the Galt House by State President Donnelly. After the appointment of committees there will be an adjournment for dinner, and in the afternoon the real work of the convention will begin. In the evening at the Galt House there will be a grand ball and reception in honor of the visitors, to which all members of the order and their friends are invited. This should prove a largely attended and pleasant event, where young and old, former members and their successors, may have a happy reunion.

Tuesday will be devoted exclusively to business, concluding with the election and installation of officers. The election of State President is exciting considerable interest, the prevailing sentiment being that the time has arrived to place a "live wire" in that important position. The convention will close Tuesday night with a banquet at the Galt House, when covers will be laid for several hundred. County President Dolan will preside as toastmaster and with him are expected to be a number of the local clergy, including Fathers Cronin of St. Patrick's, O'Sullivan of St. Louis Bertrand's, and George Connor of St. William's, who are chaplains of local divisions. There will be a number of toasts, responded to by Thomas Walsh, W. P. McDonough, Rev. George M. Connor and Lawrence J. Mackey, to be followed by impromptu remarks by others.

Simultaneously with the divisions the Ladies' Auxiliary will hold a convention in the Galt House parlors, and for their guests will have a special programme of entertainment. Delegates and visitors are expected in large numbers from Newport, Covington, Ashland, Paris and other cities, and for all there will be a hearty welcome.

Mrs. James D. Bennett, of this city, is State President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and under her administration the order has enjoyed a steady growth, increasing in strength and influence wherever the organization exists. Mrs. Bennett will preside over the deliberations of the ladies, who are sure to be gratified when her report is submitted.

APPOINTS A CATHOLIC.

After many weeks, during which there has been considerable surmise and speculation as to who the successor of the late Justice John J. McDonough would be, Gov. Foss sent to the Executive Council the name of Edward F. Haniffy, of Fall River, Mass., as Judge of the Second District Court of Bristol. Judge Haniffy was born in Fall River in 1851. He is a graduate of Holy Cross College and Harvard Law School. His first practice as a lawyer was taken up in the office of Thomas F. Higgins, now Mayor, and he was soon admitted to partnership under the firm name of Higgins & Haniffy. This partnership was only dissolved when Mayor Higgins selected him as City Solicitor. The appointee is married, and is devoted to his home, his books and his profession.

WILLIAM J. CONNELLY, State Secretary of Ancient Order of Hibernians.

GENEROUS

Support For County Board and Hibernian State Convention.

Division 1 showed the real Hibernian spirit Tuesday night when the large number present by unanimous vote authorized President Martin Cusick and the officers to draw on the treasury for any sum necessary for the proper entertainment of the State convention that meets in this city next Monday. The members were urged to bring their friends to the reception and ball on Monday evening and to the banquet the following night, both at the Galt House. President Cusick reported for the County Board and County President Dolan outlined the programme for next week. Thomas Tarpey spoke for the State and County Boards and made suggestions that met with unanimous approval, especially that instructing the delegates from Division 1 to place the County President in nomination for the State Presidency. One application was filed and Matthew Clare was elected to membership. Walter Cusick, James Kilgally, Thomas Tarpey, John Keane and William J. Higgins were alternate delegates to the State convention. The report of the Visiting Committee that no member was on the sick list was the cause for good feeling.

THOMAS LAWLER, Member Hibernian Entertainment Committee.

FINE WOMAN DIES.

Her numerous friends in Louisville and Kentucky and Tennessee learned with the deepest regret of the death of Mrs. Emma Bundschu, widow of the late F. L. Bundschu, which sad event occurred Saturday evening at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. David B. Garvey, 2319 West Main street. Two months before she contracted a severe cold, and all the care and attention that medical aid could bestow was given her, but it proved unavailing. Mrs. Bundschu was born in Germany seventy-seven years ago, coming to America when ten years old. She is survived by four sons, Capt. Frank A. Bundschu, of the Louisville fire department; Christ A. Bundschu, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Edward F. Bundschu, of Knoxville, Tenn.; and Philip Bundschu, connected with the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, of this city. Two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Bloom, of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. D. B. Garvey also survive. Mrs. Bundschu possessed excellent traits of character and a commanding personal appearance. She was affable, courteous and charitable, a devout Catholic, exemplary wife and mother, and beloved by all who knew her. The immense concourse of people who attended the funeral at St. Anthony's church was evidence of the esteem she was held in.

HIS BROTHER ILL.

Rev. Father Drury was called away from Loretto last week because of the serious illness of his brother, Father James, C. P., of the Sacred Heart Retreat, this city, is taking his place during his absence.

DEMOCRATS

Should Prepare For Government Positions Through Civil Service.

Another Post Office Employee and Enemy of Catholics Goes Wrong.

Roosevelt Strength Now Composed Entirely of Blow and Bluster.

DEMOCRATS ALL ENTHUSIASTIC

Another chapter was added to the series of incompetencies pertaining to the management of the local Post Office when on Wednesday Edgar Miller, a carrier, was arrested on the charge of rifling letters, being caught in the act of taking money from a decoy letter. Miller was arrested by Post-office Inspector William C. Eis, of the Cincinnati division, and when taken before United States Commissioner Henry C. Cassin was held to answer before the Federal grand jury in the sum of $300 bond. Abe Field, a Post-office clerk, becoming his surety. Miller is the same gentleman who presided over the Roosevelt meeting at Pfeister's Hall recently, and has taken quite a lively interest in Republican politics the last several years, serving as election officer in 1910, electioneering outside the polls with a big Republican badge on last November and never seeming to fear being called by his superiors for a violation of the civil service regulations. In addition to his political activities Miller has been an industrious promoter of the Guardians of Liberty and was very outspoken in his denunciations of Catholic employees of the Government. It is presumed that this liberty-loving citizen will be aided by his local A. P. A. fellows, who can see no wrong in rifling mail, but heartily oppose any fair treatment of Catholics.

The persecution of O'Donnell, the suicide of a clerk who was short, the covering up of another delinquency, and the finding of the Board of Trade Committee that we are getting incompetent postal service, all emphasize the contention in these columns some time ago that a radical change is needed in the Post-office. Gov. Wilson's sure chances of election will guarantee this, and Democrats who have aspirations in that line should take a civil examination in preparation for that end, as in all probability the civil service list eligible for appointment is now composed mostly of members of the G. O. P.

The Democratic headquarters in the Tyler Hotel are being visited daily by hundreds of Democrats from all over the State, and judging from their enthusiasm and confidence the National Democratic ticket will receive a majority even in excess of that of Gov. McCreary's of last November. Traveling men report the same enthusiasm among Democrats from all parts of the United States, and a Democratic President seems to be a surety by one of the largest majorities in the Electoral College in years. No sane person for a minute believes that Roosevelt and his bluster will cut any figure in the coming election, the talk of the closeness of the race throwing it into the House of Representatives being the remotest possibility. Well posted political critics hardly concede a State in the Union to the Progressive party, and it is predicted they will run behind the Prohibitionists and Socialists.

RABBI

Repudiates Guardians of Liberty and Their Cause.

The Guardians of Liberty are being found out and repudiated. Rabbi Joseph Silverman, whom they named as favoring this latest aggregation of bigots, writes Cardinal Gibbons that the use of his name was unauthorized, and further declares that he has neither affiliation nor sympathy with them. Here is his letter: "My Dear Cardinal: My attention has been called to the use of my name in public print as a member and officer of the 'Guardians of Liberty,' and I am very anxious to state to you and your associates that such use of my name was without my knowledge or sanction. I am in no way affiliated with the Guardians of Liberty and am not responsible for any of its acts and have no sympathy with the campaign it is waging. If you think well of it, I trust you will instruct your secretary to communicate the contents of this letter to the Catholic press in order to correct any false report that may have been spread. As far as I know no Jew is associated with the 'Guardians of Liberty,' and I do not believe that association will gain any followers among my people. With great esteem, Yours sincerely, 'Joseph Silverman.'"

Rabbi Silverman, who thus repudiates the unwarranted use of his name by the "Guardians of Liberty," is a rabbi of Temple Emmanuel, holds a leading position in New York and throughout the country and enjoys international repute among his Hebrew brethren. No one doubts that in this matter he represents the general attitude of his people.

IRISH NIGHT

Will Prove the Big Event at the Kentucky State Fair.

Will Be a Special Illumination and Classical Celtic Music.

Amusing and Mysterious Part For Well Known Young People.

COL. WHALEN IN FIREWORKS

The Kentucky State Fair opens Monday and every exertion has been put forth by Secretary Dent and the managers to make it the most attractive exhibition in the history of the institution. It is conceded by all that this State Fair will surpass in magnitude and attractiveness any other held in this section of country. Each day and night will have its special features, but it is expected that Irish-American night, set for next Wednesday, will be the biggest event connected with the fair. Col. William J. O'Henri is Chairman. Frank McGrath is Treasurer, and James Greene, Councilman Thomas Dolan and William M. Higgins are the other members of the committee in charge that night. Arrangements have been made with Secretary Dent for a special illumination with green lights and fire, and a selected program of Irish music. The committee has also arranged with the fireworks people for a large set piece, similar to that of the lamented Patrick Bannan shown some years ago, showing Col. John H. Whalen at the head of the great Federation parade. This is one the committee and Secretary Dent have put over on the Colonel, who has been lending his best efforts and assisting the committee in planning features to take place in connection with this night. One that will attract widespread attention and furnish much amusement will be furnished by the young people whose pictures are partially given in this issue. The other parts will appear in the daily papers. All may be put together and used for the purpose of identification.

First, two of Louisville's most beautiful girls have been selected and two local young men, and it is this quartette that local folks must go on a still hunt for. Identification of any one of the four means money to the finder, as there have been certain amounts of gold money offered for the successful ones. Photographs of the two young men and women will be published in the local papers. These will be for reference and aid in identifying the "mysterious four," who have promised to be as elusive as possible, although they are well known in the city. On a certain day, the date of which will be published tomorrow, the four will pass out Fourth street in automobiles between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Another day the four will visit certain department stores in Fourth street and Market street, also between 2 and 4 o'clock p. m.

Irish-American day at the State Fair is Wednesday, September 11. On printed programmes the different points the "mysterious four" will visit will be named. The gate they will come in will be designated. The different exhibits, shows, stands or booths they will visit and the time for each visit will be stated on the programmes. They will visit these various places until dark. In the evening on Irish-American day the quartet will visit either together, in pairs or singly, the fireworks exhibition or the live stock pavilion until 10 o'clock, giving everyone a chance to identify them.

For identifying any one of the "mysterious four" any person will be given $10 in gold. For identifying any two, $20; for any three, $30, or for the whole four, $40. The same offer goes before the "big day" at the fair. If any or every one of the four are identified before Irish-American day, the committees will give the same prizes. Thus, it is seen, $80 in gold is offered for acute observers or amateur detectives. They may be identified by the pictures to be published in the papers and the descriptions. There will be no names given. Chance is given everyone to find and identify members of the quartet on the street, in certain designated stores or at the numerous places at the fair.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS.

The Kentucky State Council of the Catholic Knights of America will meet in State convention at Henderson next Monday, the last having been held three years ago. Louisville branches will send a large delegation, as the sessions will be important. A determination has been expressed to elect live and energetic State officers, who will push this great order, and the result will be awaited with interest.

GEN. BARRY

Now Commands Eastern Division of the United States Army.

His Rise to Fame and Fortune Example For Our Boys.

Inaugurated Many Improvements at West Point Military Academy.

ARCHBISHOP COMPLIMENTS HIM

Major Gen. Thomas H. Barry, U. S. A., who is the first New Yorker to command at Governors Island in more than a generation, assumed command of the Eastern division of the army, with headquarters on Governors Island, last Saturday afternoon. At the same time that Gen. Barry took over the command Col. C. L. Townsend, of the Coast Artillery Corps, succeeded Gen. Barry as Superintendent of the Military Academy at West Point, he being the first Coast Artillery officer who has ever held that place. Gen. Barry, who is a native born New Yorker, succeeds Brig. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, the position which he assumes ranking next to that of Chief of the General Staff, the most important in the gift of the President. As Superintendent of West Point Gen. Barry inaugurated numerous improvements in that institution, and he leaves to Col. Townsend the largest corps in point of numbers in the history of the academy. Gen. Barry leaves West Point with the keenest regret, and the academy has never had a more popular Superintendent.

Gen. Barry is the third youngest of the Major Generals now on the active list of the army. Gen. Barry's rise to fame and position is often pointed out as a brilliant example of how a poor boy, without fortune and influential friends, can go to the front in this country. Born in the old Greenwich Village section of New York, he was forty years ago, known as plain "Tom" Barry, who was distinguished in his immediate circles as one of the brightest boys in the public schools, and also as one of the handsomest. Gen. Barry was remembered by persons not in the army as the commanding General in Cuba following the second occupation of the island by the United States. It was while he was in Cuba exercising that command that Gen. Barry was furloughed to come to New York as Grand Marshal of the Catholic Centenary parade. Archbishop Farley on that occasion patted Gen. Barry on the shoulder and called him his "big brother" and intimated that if ever he needed any physical assistance the General would be the man he would like best to call upon for aid.

In 1877 Gen. Barry was graduated from the West Point Academy as a Second Lieutenant of Cavalry, and his promotion followed in quick order to a First Lieutenant, and passing through all the grades Gen. Barry in August, 1903, just twenty-three years following his graduation, was a Brigadier General of regulars. He became a Major General in 1908. As is the custom at West Point when the Superintendent is detached, the Corps of Cadets was paraded in Gen. Barry's honor Saturday morning. Lieut. Col. Frederick W. Sladden, the Commandant of Cadets, commanded the corps. Gen. Barry reviewing the marching youngsters from in front of the Superintendent's house on the eastern side of the West Point Plain. After the review Gen. Barry had a farewell reception.

BASE BALL.

Catholic League Scores Success and Permanent Footing.

Sunday afternoon about 1,500 people assembled at Ellipse Park to give encouragement and witness the all-star ball game and field meet which were given by the Falls City Catholic League to signalize the culmination of its first season, successful in every way. Great interest was shown in the ball game and in the event. In the crowd were numerous young women, whose presence lent charm to the occasion, and from the beginning the conduct of the athletes was most orderly, reflecting much credit on the organization. The game was won by the team known as the Blues, who were captained by Frank O'Hara, third baseman of the Holy Trinity team, of New Albany. They defeated the Reds, captained by Second Baseman Pat Connors, of St. Charles team, the score being 11 to 3.

In the field events, the 100-yard dash was held first. C. Smith, of St. William's, was first; C. Ruf, of St. Martin's, second; S. Grauel, of St. Anthony's, third, Time, 12 seconds. Accurate throwing was won by Frank O'Hara, of Holy Trinity. Circling the bases resulted in a tie between S. Grauel, of St. Anthony's, and C. Ruf, of St. Martin's. Time, 15 1/2 seconds. Sprinting to first was won in a tie among three contestants, C. Smith, of St. William's;

S. Grauel, of St. Anthony's, and W. Hogan, of St. Louis Bertrand's. Time, 3 1/4 seconds. In the long distance throwing, a pretty fight between Hogan, of St. Louis Bertrand's, and Schaaf, of Holy Trinity, was a tie, but in throw-off Hogan won, making the remarkable distance of 338 feet. Between 1,600 and 1,800 tickets were sold, and the Falls City League obtained funds to continue its organization.

THOMAS WALSH, Will Deliver Address at Hibernian Banquet at Galt House.

ORATORY

And Election by Division 3. A. O. H., Enliven Meeting.

The election of alternate delegates to the State convention, the reported splendid condition of the society and timely addresses by J. Mackey, Edward McDonald, P. T. Sullivan and others made quite interesting the well attended meeting of Division 3 A. O. H., held Monday night. Secretary Stevens reported the County Board proceedings and the arrangements made for the State convention, and all necessary financial support was pledged. The alternates elected were Tom Quinn, John Riley, Martin Sheehan, Michael Kenyon and P. T. Sullivan. All members were authorized to invite their friends to the ball and reception Monday night at the Galt House and also to the banquet Tuesday night in honor of the State convention. The quarterly report showed the division in splendid condition. Thomas Kennedy and Gen. Crowley were placed on the sick list, while Patrick Cunningham and Patrick McManahan were reported improving. Members out of employment were directed to James Broderick, who knew of prospective places for a number of men.

THOMAS J. LANGAN, Member Hibernian Entertainment Committee.

HAPPY GOLDEN JUBILEE.

Last Monday Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kleier, Sr., of 809 East Chestnut street, celebrated the golden jubilee of their marriage in St. Martin's church, where they plighted their troth fifty years ago and twenty-five years ago observed their silver anniversary. Hale and hearty, notwithstanding their advanced years, the old couple repaired to the church Monday morning, accompanied by their immediate family, where they assisted at a special mass sung by the Rev. Father Louis C. Ohio, the pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Kleier both have been devout members of St. Martin's parish, which they have seen grow from a struggling church to the largest German Catholic congregation in Louisville. Mr. Kleier is a charter member of the Poor Soul's Society, St. Vincent de Paul Society, St. Martin's Men's Society and St. Joseph's Orphanage Society. Nine children were born to the couple, six of whom are living. They are Mrs. Peter Hoffman, Henry Kleier, Jr., and Misses Katherine, Josephine, Rosa and Mary Kleier. There are nine grandchildren. In the evening at their home a golden wedding supper was spread.

CONDITION IMPROVED.

During the past few days there has been a marked improvement in the condition of Dr. Frank Corrigan, who for a time was thought to be in a dying condition, resulting from a fall from a street car nearly three weeks ago. Dr. Corrigan is sixty-two years old and a widely known physician.

ORANGE

Threats of Rebellion Not New and They Only Excite Amusement.

Five of the Nine Ulster Counties Favor Home Rule.

Correction of Inaccurate Reports and Erroneous Impressions Made.

REAL CONDITION AT PRESENT

Ulster is not opposed to home rule. Instead a majority of the people of Ulster have declared in its favor at every election since 1885, when the household suffrage law was passed. This is a fact notwithstanding the cable reports that Ulster is preparing to resist home rule by armed force. The threat to set up a provisional government in Ulster and take up arms against the forces of the British empire is highly amusing to every person familiar with conditions there. What are these conditions? Ulster comprises nine counties and is represented in the Imperial Parliament by thirty-three members. During two Parliaments the province has been represented by seventeen Home Rulers and sixteen Unionists. From 1886 until 1892 the figures were eighteen Home Rulers and fifteen Unionists, while at present the representation is sixteen Home Rulers and seventeen Unionists. Analyzing the situation further, it is found that five Ulster counties, Donegal, Tyrone, Fermanagh, Cavan and Monaghan, are overwhelmingly Nationalist, while but three counties, Antrim, Down and Armagh, are correspondingly Unionist. The people of Derry are practically equally divided on the question. In the five Nationalist counties there are but two Unionist districts, while in the three Unionist counties there are four districts represented by Home Rulers. There is in Ulster much opposition to home rule. That can not be denied, but the opposition is confined almost entirely to the northeast corner, Antrim and Down, together with the larger part of Armagh and about half of Derry. What the opposition lacks in numbers it endevors to make up for in vociferous protests against an Irish Parliament. It does not hesitate to misstate the case, loudly proclaiming that Ulster will never submit to a government in Dublin. All this of course is designed to arouse the sympathy of the English electors and thus defeat the home rule bill. The threats are no one, however. The English as well as the Irish people have grown accustomed to them. They are no more serious than those of 1869, 1886 or 1892.

When Gladstone proposed the disestablishment of the Episcopal church in Ireland in 1869 similar threats were made. One reverend gentleman, seated the Orangemen "would kick the Queen's crown into the Boyne" if she dared to sign the disestablishment bill. The bill became law, and neither the Queen nor her crown was molested. Instead the law was obeyed and all hands now concede that it was a beneficent measure for church and country alike.

Gladstone's first home rule bill in 1886 was received with a storm of execration in Orange circles. Threats of rebellion were openly made. Lord Randolph Churchill, father of the present War Minister, crossed over to Belfast and urged resistance. He declared "Ulster will fight and Ulster will be right," apparently blissfully unconscious of the fact that at the moment eighteen of Ulster's thirty-three members were Home Rulers. William Johnston, then leader of the Orangemen, talked of "lining the ditches" north of the Boyne. He said they would go into battle "with a Bible in one hand and a sword in the other." When later their misguided followers threw Belfast into turmoil, wrecking and burning business houses, the leaders left them to their fate.

Again in 1893, when the second home rule bill was before Parliament, similar scenes were enacted. The rioting this time was curbed in a brief period and comparatively little damage was done.

With the introduction of the third home rule bill came a recurrence of the bluff and bluster so frequently heard in the past.

LOUISVILLE MAN TREASURER.

Between 40,000 and 50,000 Catholics, from all parts of the United States and Canada, are expected to participate in the fifty-seventh convention of the German Catholic Central Verein to be held in Toledo from September 15 to 18. August Neuhoff, of this city, is the Treasurer.

HELPED BOOTH START.

The death of Gen. Booth, head of the Salvation Army, recalls the fact that when he started his work the first man in England to give him encouragement was Cardinal Manning, for whom the General ever entertained a reverent regard.

SHOULD INVESTIGATE.

The daily papers published a story this week to the effect that a West End grocer followed his son-in-law to Mackin Council, Y. M. I., club rooms and forced him at the point of a pistol to swear to support his wife in the future, and further that the son-in-law was a member of Mackin Council. On investigation it was proven that the affair happened in front of Mackin Council's club house and the young man was not a member of Mackin Council now or at any time in its history. The Evening Post was a special offender in this case, publishing the article in question two straight days and unnecessarily repeated the name of Mackin Council in the story. The slightest investigation of this story would have avoided this mistake.

SOCIALISM.

The Chicago Inter Ocean makes no mistake in its conclusions upon Socialism, and they are worth careful reading:

"The hostility of Socialism to Christianity is inevitable, because of the fact that Socialism is not merely a political method, but also a philosophy of life whose assumptions and aims are purely materialistic—are directed solely to the attainment of ideals of 'comfort' as life's greatest good. Marxian Socialism—the only kind that is militant and seeks political revolution, and so chafes in effect—refuses to concern itself with anything beyond the present life and this world. It has no answer—it even denies the need of any answer—to the perpetual question of the soul: 'If a man die, shall he live again?' Socialism professes to leave every man free to think as he pleases on that subject. In reality, it discourages thought on it as unimportant. Most of the foremost exponents of Socialism have been and are avowed atheists, denying both the existence of God and the immortality of the soul. At best, the attitude of Socialism toward religion is agnostic. It says to the eternal question: 'We don't know; we can't find out; it isn't worth while to try.' Denying the need of any religious sanction for morals, Socialism degrades those human relations which Christianity, because of their fundamental character in distinguishing men and brutes, has clothed with an especial sacredness. Marriage, for example, is regarded by Socialism as purely a civil contract, and as less binding upon the parties than a contract for the purchase and sale of commodities. Whoever Socialism has obtained power in government, as in France today, that power is exerted to eliminate the Christian religion as an influence and factor in the conduct of human life. The public schools of France, under Socialistic control, teach 'morality' indeed, but it is a morality without God, and repudiates the need of any sort of sanction for its teachings beyond the finite human reason and will. No real Christian can be a Socialist—if he understands Socialism. The two systems are wholly antagonistic and mutually destructive. Socialism recognizes no higher power in the universe than man himself."

GREATEST DEMOCRACY.

The Catholic church is the greatest democracy the world has ever known. Within the bosom of the church all peoples and tribes and nations and tongues have a home. In her eyes all men are equal, and the interests of the poor Hottentot, or the barbarian Kaffir are as dear to her as that of the monarch upon his throne, of the prince among his peers. Man endowed with an immortal soul, made unto the image of God, is her birthright, her heritage; she is the mother of souls, all men are her children, and at her altars the king kneels beside the peasant, the humble slave has the same rights and privileges as his lordly master. She is the church of the masses. The storms of two thousand years have raged about her; empires and kingdoms have risen and fallen; monarchs have yielded her allegiance and monarchs have risen against her; whole nations have turned away, and nations are returning, and she remains the same. She stands today as she stood in the beginning, the teacher of the nations, the refuge of the oppressed, the assured safeguard of the liberties of the people, the promoter of law and order, obedience to constituted authority.

THE FEDERATION PARADE.

Behold the mighty multitude,
The glorious pageant grand—
All honest, faithful citizens
Of this free and bounteous land.
They profess their faith and freedom
In these loyal ranks today,
While in their meek and upright hearts
God's blessings on our land they pray.

As we gaze upon the spectacle
Till it's wearisome to the eye,
We observe the nationalities
In the parade as they pass by:
All patriots and true Americans
And professing one great creed—
What a power and aid to government
In this land in time of need.

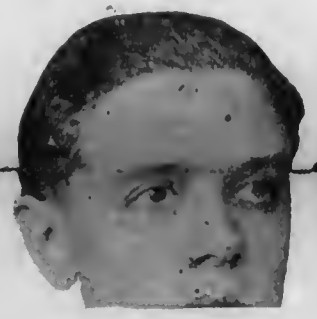

The true guardians of liberty
Are in the rank and file today—
Will uphold the constitution
And good government always.
No Socialist or anarchist,
Nor bigots of small soul breed
Can be found in the Federation
Of our societies indeed.

The man who devised that parade
Without a flaw to mar pleasure
Must be a genius of high grade
And courageous beyond measure.
Honors to whom honor is due—
Old saying, will live forever.
Col. John H. Whallen, it is true,
Wins all praise, that none can sever.

In years to come when we are old,
And history true'll be written,
Federation's work will be extolled
While false, evil works are smitten.
Col. John H. Whallen's big parade
Will be lauded in history's pages—
His name and fame without degrade
Will be read in future ages.

HAPPILY WEDDED.

One of the most beautiful of the early fall weddings took place Wednesday at St. Joseph's church, when Miss Mayme Nibberich became the bride of George T. Kinnearney. The bride was beautifully attired in a white satin wedding dress and tulle veil, carrying a bouquet of bride roses. She was attended by Miss Lena Stratman as maid of honor, Miss Marie Burkhardt as bridesmaid and little Miss Agnes Schmidt, a cousin of the groom, as flower girl. The maid of honor was tastefully dressed in blue satin, with an overdress of white lace, and the bridesmaid wore a dress of pink marquisette, both carrying bouquets of bride roses. The flower girl, gowned in yellow satin, preceded the bride, scattering yellow roses in her path. The groom was attended by Frank Kramer, of Cincinnati. Following the ceremony at the church, which was performed by Fathers Alexander, Gallagher and Schumann, a reception was held at the home of the bride, 1532 Lloyd street. After a wedding trip East they will be at home at 1532 Lloyd street. The best wishes of a legion of friends follow the worthy couple into their new life.

HIS UNTIMELY END.

The death of John H. Wrocklage, son of Mrs. Caroline Wrocklage, 537 Finzer street, in the bravery of his youth and promise, came with a great shock to the many who know and loved the young man for his qualities. Since graduating from St. Xavier's College he was with the Frank Menne Candy Company and was Treasurer of the St. Martin's Society and a devout member of that church. Besides his mother, he is survived by four brothers, Fred J., Henry A., George H. and Frank G. Wrocklage, and a sister, Mrs. John Biron, Jr. His funeral took place Monday morning with solemn mass of requiem, the church being thronged with sorrowing friends and associates. If the many young men who mourn his loss will imitate his good Catholic life even his death will have its consolations for those who remain. May God rest his soul.

ANNIVERSARY.

The St. Francis Society of St. Peter's church, Seventeenth and Southgate streets, organized by the men of that parish fifty years ago, will tomorrow celebrate the golden jubilee of its founding with elaborate and religious ceremony. In the morning there will be a jubilee high mass and in the afternoon solemn vespers and benediction. The celebration will close with a bounteous banquet in the school hall, at which Lieut. Gov. Edward J. McDermott has been invited to deliver an address.

TROSS—LACHER.

Raffo, celebrating the nuptial mass and performing the ceremony. Leo J. Schulte and Otto J. Hubbuch were the attendants. Following the wedding breakfast the bride and groom left for an extended wedding trip, which will include Niagara Falls and the big cities of the East.

SELECTS LOUISVILLE SISTERS.

WILL DEDICATE SOON.

The new Holy Name church which Rev. Father John O'Connor is erecting on South Third street is nearing completion, and it is hoped to have ready for dedication next month. Father O'Connor has done wonderful work in South Louisville, and his new church will not be surpassed by any in this part of the country.

APPRECIATED.

The presence of Kelly's band at the ceremonies incident to the dedication of Father Eugene Bartell's new church was greatly appreciated by the people of Shepherdsdale and vicinity. Bishop O'Donoghue officiated at the dedication, which was attended by people from all the surrounding country. The young Louisville musician made a hit and was slated over the treatment accorded them.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest
Members Here and Elsewhere.

The council at Uniontown, Ky., will erect a $10,000 two-story brick building.

The Knights of Columbus will build a $40,000 club house in Hamilton, Ont.

The membership has been increasing annually at an average of more than 20,000 for the past ten years.

There was a great exemplification at Toronto on Labor day, when National Director Daniel Griffin conferred the third degree.

Little Rhode Island has twenty-three councils. They will unite in a great parade in Providence on Columbus day, October 12.

Niagara Falls Knights have paid $8,000 for a site on Walnut street, facing the head of Fifth, upon which they will erect their new home building.

Wichita Knights will confer the degrees on a large class September 18. On account of the presence of Cardinal Gibbons it will be known as the "Cardinal" class.

Toledo Council will be host again next year at Cedar Point. This year about 2,500 Knights enjoyed the outing and registered at the popular resort near Sandusky.

AGED RESIDENT GONE.

The death of Michael Reardon early last Sunday morning at the family residence, 308 Oldham street, marked the passing of one of the pioneer residents of St. Louis Bertrand's church parish. Mr. Reardon's family being one of the first to settle in that section. He earned the respect and good will of that neighborhood by his clean, honest and upright life. Besides his wife he is survived by the following children: Mrs. Daniel Moriarty, Mrs. James Kenealey, Mrs. Annie Ross, Mrs. A. McFarland, Dennis J. and Michael Reardon. The funeral took place from St. Louis Bertrand church Tuesday morning.

BANQUET FOR MRS. JOLLY.

Mrs. Ellen Ryan Jolly, the newly elected National President of the Hibernian Ladies' Auxiliary, will be tendered a grand banquet at the Ellysium in Providence, R. I., on September 25 that promises to be an event long to be remembered in the Hibernian annals of Rhode Island. Fully 400 guests have signified their intention of being present, among them Right Rev. Mgr. Moran, V. G., Gov. Aram J. Poole, Mayor Henry Fletcher, ex-Gov. Higgins, National President James Regan and Congressman George F. O'Shaughnessy.

JOINED CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Rev. William Jurney, aged thirty-five, of 160 West Sixty-fifth street, for two years assistant pastor of St. Ann's Episcopal church, South Brooklyn, has resigned and joined the Roman Catholic church. The clergyman's intention is to become a priest, and he will take a six years' course of study. He is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University. Public announcement of his assistant's conversion was made on Sunday at St. Paul's by the Rev. William Wilson, the pastor.

PINCHES OF POVERTY.

Catholics will learn with pleasure that Miss McCarthy, the devoted daughter of Justin McCarthy, who recently died, has been placed on the civil list with a pension of $350 per annum. This announcement came almost simultaneously with that of the death of the Irish cause and of everyone in distress had little to leave. Despite the success of his many works, his estate is valued at $2,250, for McCarthy spent generously while he had it for his party and for private charities; and during the falling years of his life serious illness and other expenses ran away with his savings.

FINE IRISH PLAY.

John O'Donnell and his excellent company scored a decided hit this week at the Walnut Theater in the typical Irish play, "Rolling in the Rye." The production is clean and meritorious and the scenery showing the ruins of ancient castles and picturesque mountains is far above the average. All who witnessed the play will welcome a return engagement.

DESIGN OF JESUIT.

The new instruments designed by Father Algue, S. J., of the Philippines, have been ordered by the Secretary of the Navy for all naval vessels and all Atlantic naval stations. It is planned to introduce them into general use among all classes of ships before the opening of the Panama canal.

HINTS FOR HOME.

When patting a glass it can be removed with hot vinegar.

When soaking mackerel or other salt fish, see that the skin side is uppermost.

Iced water in a pitcher will keep much longer if a paper bag is placed over the top.

A cloth dipped in ammonia will often remove stains from the collar of an overcoat.

To polish zinc, rub briskly with a cloth dipped in kerosene and rinse off with boiling water.

A good black ink, mixed with white of egg, will restore the color of old shoes and gloves.

A porcelain tub or sink may be thoroughly cleaned with a flannel dipped in spirits of turpentine.

Keep the wax coated boxes in which crackers are packed, for they make excellent polishers for irons.

Save soapuds if you have a garden, for they form a very useful manure for flowers, shrubs and vegetables.

INDULGENCES.

Essentials That Are Necessary and Their Benefit.

Many people have a rather vague idea of the Catholic doctrine of indulgences and remission of sins. For instance the following item was published recently: "It was announced Saturday that plenary indulgence in the remission of sins will be granted all Catholics who have attended the evening hours of devotion during the Eucharistic Congress, who take communion, who attend the services Sunday afternoon and receive the Papal benediction and who utter a formal prayer for the Pope. To receive plenary indulgence all four of these requirements must be fulfilled." Now as a matter of fact the church teaches that sins are forgiven only through the sacrament of penance, when that sacrament is available to the penitent, or by an act of perfect contrition, when confession to a duly authorized priest is impossible. The essentials of the worthy reception of the sacrament are a careful examination of conscience, a hearty sorrow for sins committed, a firm purpose never again to offend God, confession to a duly authorized priest, and the performance of the penance imposed by the confessor. When these essentials are complied with the guilt of sin and the eternal punishment due to it are remitted; there remains, however, the debt of temporal punishment to be discharged. A similar result follows an act of perfect contrition in case sacramental confession be impossible. An indulgence is the remission of the temporal punishment due to sin, and is obtained by the performance while in a state of grace of certain good works enjoined by the church. Indulgences are either plenary, remitting all the punishment, or they are partial, when only a portion is remitted. The infinite merits of our Lord and the works of supererogation performed by the saints have created an immense surplus in the treasury of the church; and an indulgence is simply a draft on that surplus, drawn by the Pope in favor of the person gaining it. The Pope makes the draft by virtue of his office as the successor of St. Peter, to whom Christ said: "Whosoever thou shalt loose on earth, it shall be loosed in heaven."

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Peter A. Karins took place Monday afternoon from the Cathedral. His occupation was that of art glass worker and he was well known. Besides his widowed mother he leaves one sister to mourn his death.

Many friends and relatives in Holy Cross parish mourn the death of Jacob Seidel, 3415 West Chestnut street, which followed a long illness of brain trouble. Besides his bereaved widow he leaves three young daughters, for whom there is felt the most sincere sympathy. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at Holy Cross church, with the interment in St. Louis cemetery.

Many warm friends and relatives were saddened by news of the death of Miss Mary A. Whalen, daughter of the late John and Catherine Whalen, which occurred at the residence of her cousin, Dennis Whalen, 749 South Eighteenth street, with whom she had been making her home. Retiring in disposition, her life was an exemplary one, ending as she had lived—peacefully, quietly, calmly. Her funeral took place from Sacred Heart church Sunday afternoon, Rev. Father Patrick Walsh officiating.

GOOD POTATO CAKE.

Mash six mealy potatoes while they are hot and put them aside to get cold. You may, if you like, beat into the hot mass a tablespoonful of butter. If you do not, melt the butter when you are ready to make the cake and beat it well in. To two cupfuls of mashed potatoes allow a cupful of flour which has been sifted twice, with a scant teaspoonful of baking powder. Soften the potato with a cupful of milk worked in gradually. Salt to taste, and work in the flour until you have a dough just as soft as you can roll into balls. Roll into a sheet half an inch thick; cut with a biscuit cutter and bake quickly. Sometimes when I wish them to be particularly nice I beat in an egg, but they are very good without this. Tear open while they are hot, and butter.

LATEST IN STYLES.

Some of the new shadow laces have their patterns outlined with a thread of metal.

Young girls are wearing the large shepherdess hats with streaming ribbons and dainty flowers.

Extremely deep frills of the sheerest laces set into elbow sleeves are much the vogue in Paris.

Among the first felt hats small shapes are dividing the honors with large, soft, droopy shapes.

The fashionable prelate sash is made of soft satin, and the square, flat ends are embroidered.

Fashion favors small ribbon ruffles and bows of picot edged ribbons for millinery purposes.

Perisian embroideries, with brocade and a good deal of silver, will be used in evening models.

The new Medici collars with extended ruffs in the back are likely to be warmly welcomed this fall.

White dresses for afternoon and evening are charming with bright green, red and amber trimmings.

Dark blue coats and soft felt hats of the same shade are perfect with white net blouses and white linen skirts.

Some of the new dresses are made of two toned corduroy, combined with silk charmeuse or chiffon in plain color.

If one can have but one elegant gown, let it be a black and white combination. It can be worn oftener than anything else without becoming tiresome.

LISTEN TO MOTHER.

Girls, listen to your mothers; you will never regret it. No matter what your advantages are above what hers were, you are no better. You can rest assured that it is no hook learning or knowledge of fashion that will keep your feet away from the many pitfalls that she can warn you from, in a tender, loving fashion, that you would do well to heed. No matter how mothers may speak, you may rest assured their hearts are in the right place, and that they want their daughters to be innocent and good, rather than fashionable.

WHICH TYPE YOURS?

If gentle speech and kindly views of life and people, if attractive manners and sympathetic and loving habits of thought are to obtain in old age, they must be practiced in early life. We do not suddenly become transformed. The critical, fault finding, carping, severe old woman is a creature to be avoided by men, women and children. The kindly, patient, companionable old lady is a joy and a comfort to all who know her. Which type do you think you have begun to emulate? It is only a little step from youth to maturity.

CATHOLIC BASEBALL LEAGUE.
 After tomorrow's games in the Catholic League only one scheduled series remains, the games of Sunday, September 15, being the last of the season. The positions from second to sixth place are closely bunched, only one game difference between five clubs. The St. Charles team in winning the pennant has proven itself the class of the league and their success in a measure can be attributed to their modest but bustling manager, William J. Stammerman, who had the leaders playing top notch ball all season. The schedule for tomorrow is as follows: St. William vs. St. Martin, St. Charles vs. Holy Trinity, Holy Cross vs. St. Louis Bertrand at Shawnee Park, and St. Anthony vs. St. Brigid at Spring Bank Park. The standing to date:

Holy Trinity	9	8	.525
St. Louis Bertrand	10	9	.525
St. Brigid	5	12	.294
St. Martin	1	18	.053

RIVERVIEW.
 Manager Lum Simons announces that Riverview Park will remain open during September with all the amusement devices in full operation. The jubilee minstrels and singers have had their engagement indefinitely extended. They have proved a novelty, which has accorded heavily with the park patrons because of their unique form of entertainment, which includes ragtime, coon songs and buck and wing dancing. The feature of the programme is an old-fashioned cake walk, in which one-half of the company takes part. Special preparation has been made to care for and entertain out-of-town visitors during State Fair week.

GONE TO REST.
 Martin Kehoe, one of Jeffersonville's oldest and best known citizens, died Monday morning at his home on Ohio avenue following an illness of long duration. The deceased was born in Ireland about eighty years ago, and was a son of Mr. and Mrs.

FITZ AND BUCK.
 Emmet Fitzpatrick, erstwhile proprietor of the cafe bearing that name at Twelfth and Garland avenue, has just returned from an extended tour of the East, in which he was accompanied by his aide-de-camp and bosom friend, Capt. Danay Buck. They visited Hot Springs, N. C.; Atlantic City, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, and report that they had a most enjoyable time. Capt. Danay was much impressed with the grandeur of the National Capitol, but could not be induced to go up in the Washington monument under any pretext. He has a collection of amusing stories and incidents to tell his many friends, and claims that next summer he will visit the home of the Kings—dear old Ireland.

MAVSVILLE.
 The will of the late John McElvaine, of Maysville, has been filed for probate. After making a number of bequests among which were $1,200 in the Catholic church of that city, he also bequeathed to the Willson Memorial Hospital $1,000 in cash, and further directed that after the death of the bequest has been paid that the residue of the estate should go to the trustees of the hospital for the purpose of establishing a free ward for the benefit of children whose parents were too poor to pay for their treatment. The trustees are to be the sole judges as to who shall be admitted to the ward.

REPRESENTS LOUISVILLE.
 Vincent C. Burke, President of the Louisville branch of the National Federation of Post-office Clerks, is in Salt Lake City, where he went as delegate to represent this city in the national convention that met Monday. Last year he was delegate to the convention held at Des Moines, when he was elected Vice President of the national organization. President Burke is an expert distributor in the Louisville office, and with his wide knowledge of post-office affairs and the federation in general, Branch 4 has been represented with honor and dignity. His home is at 128 West Hill street, where he resides with his parents.

SILVER POLISH.
 Blend together equal parts of cream of tartar and precipitate of chalk and wet to a thick paste with cold water. If the silver be badly tarnished, allow the paste to dry upon it, then polish gently with a soft cloth dipped in dry chalk.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

A company is being formed to work the electric light scheme for Ballybay.

Owen Duffy, of Monaghan, has been appointed Assistant County Surveyor.

The unusual appearance of hailstones in midsummer was witnessed on August 1 in West Wicklow.

Hundreds of acres of land along the course of the Owenmore river are rendered useless by flooding.

J. M. Darby, of Carlow, died suddenly from heart failure. He leaves a widow and nine children to mourn his loss.

T. W. Delany was unanimously re-elected Chairman of the Longford Agricultural and Technical Instruction Committee.

James Maguire, of Cavan, and Mr. McCaffrey, of Tempo, have been sworn in as Justices of the Peace for County Fermanagh.

Nicholas Cruddery, stated to come from Kilmilly, was seriously injured while cycling near Louth, being struck in the back by the shaft of a cart.

There was not a single case of drunkenness at the recent petty sessions at New Ross out of a large district, which comprises a population of up to 30,000.

Much regret was felt in Galway at the death of the Rev. Peter Newell, of Castlebar. The deceased was one of the best known and most popular priests in the West of Ireland.

Peter Byrne, Inniskillen, received somewhat severe injuries to his hands in a collision between a motor bicycle and his car at Blackrock on Thursday. He was removed to the Louth Infirmary.

The result of the election for the vacant Councilorship of the Dock ward on the Limerick Borough Council was: P. O'Flynn, 428; T. Cuddihy, son of the late Councilor, 180; P. McInerney, 122.

While a farmer named Thomas O'Neill, aged sixty, was driving into Limerick his horse shied at a passing train near Ballinacree, and when he jumped off to quiet it he was badly kicked. He died some hours later.

The Lord Chancellor, on the recommendation of the Earl of Meath, His Majesty's Lieutenant of the County of Dublin, has appointed Charles Clifford, of Donnybrook, and late Chief Locomotive Engineer of the G. N. railway, a Justice of the Peace for County Dublin.

A mysterious early morning fire occurred recently in Greencastle Catholic church and the contents and roof of the vestry were badly damaged, but the fire brigade prevented the fire extending to the altar. The Sunday evening devotions took place as usual, and when the church was locked up everything was in order.

The Dublin dailies reproduced photographs of two orphan boys, Edward and James, of Greencastle, who have come into a fortune of $100,000 and have started for the United States to be educated in one of the leading colleges there. Their father was to have sailed with his boys on the Titanic, but was taken ill and died a month afterward.

The death of Timothy Gleeson, of Lisquinlan, which has just occurred, recalls one of the earliest fights with the authorities when the Gaelic League was making its first struggle for existence. Timothy Gleeson, as he was better known, put his name in Irish on his card, and was prosecuted and fined. He stoutly refused to pay the fine and went to prison. The stand then taken by him established a principle since respected.

PENNANT CONTENDERS.
 Manager Bill Friel and his pennant contenders, the Columbus team, will be here this afternoon for a series of three games, and Manager Jack Hayden will have to start the Colonels at top speed to stop their rush, as the Columbus contingent are still figuring to catch Minneapolis before the close, being only five games behind them now, and have two-thirds of their remaining games to win in Louisville and Louisville, who have been comparatively easy picking for them all season, while Minneapolis has the same proportion with Kansas City and Milwaukee, who will at least be sure of an even break. The superiority of Louisville as a baseball town has again been demonstrated by the small attendances the leading Association teams are having just now and which do not begin to compare with this town, which in the first division would outdraw any town in the Association.

WALNUT STREET THEATER.
 A motion picture exhibition which drew large houses for nearly five months at the Lyceum Theater, New York, continuing through the entire summer, must be considerably out of the ordinary. Paul J. Rainey's African hunt as disclosed by the cinematograph is that rarity. It will be brought to the Walnut-street Theater for a week's engagement, starting Sunday afternoon. Nearly every animal which Noah took into the Ark is to be seen in its native haunts, acting exactly as it is natural for it to act when it does not know that man is agh. These motion pictures are so replete with interesting detail that an experienced lecturer is kept busy explaining every foot of film for two solid hours.

COLESBURG.
 A wedding of much interest will be solemnized next Tuesday at St. Clare's church in Colesburg, when Miss Mamie French, the lovely and popular daughter of Tom French, will become the bride of Jerome Bria, one of the best known and most highly esteemed young men of that section. Both have a wide acquaintance and a large gathering of friends will witness their marriage.
